Two cities sit and look at each other across the bay, Oakland and San Francisco, and around the bay the other cities, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, Hayward, etc.; united, as some day they will be, their population would be 1,500,000. Ignoring political divisions, this is the biggest city on the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles will not object to that, for Los Angeles expects to pass 1,500,000 soon.

Oakland, where this is written, is a great industrial, railroad and aviation city. Airplane start from here and go everywhere, East, to the land of big money, North and South to the lands of promise, and West over the Pacific. Plenty of flying room here.

Oakland, one of the first big cities to realize the importance of flying, has one of the best airports in America, and the only hotel, devoted to aviators exclusively, is owned by the city. People out here feel that they can do some things for themselves and do not always need a corporation to do it, and take the profit, if any.

Flying, which is here and all over the world to stay, will build the West Coast as nothing else could. Men that have a billion of their own, or under their control, are too busy to see this coast slowly by rail. They cannot appreciate it without seeing it. Soon they will see it from the air.

Every place in the West has something that no one else has. Skagit county, State of Washington, for instance, grows 83 per cent of all the cabbage seed grown in North and South America. You would never have guessed that.

Another section grows hay so thick that after you have cut and piled it in haystack there is no room to drive the wagon on to the hay field. Do not let the commander of the United States battles fleet, now anchored in Puget Sound, guarantee that statement.

Oakland is proud of being quoted "the most prosperous city in the world." Statistics prove it. The population has grown steadily from 150,174 in 1910 to 261,000.

Be sure to see Oakland when you visit the West.

Somebody has described this coast to Dr. Farrell, head of the Columbia Steel Co., suggest on the coast "that is good thing for the coast and for United States Steel."

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., independently well off, has decided to make more money, comes here and gives two million dollars to buy up and protect the forests of redwood trees. That is a selfless act to humanity.

Of those trees were 2000 years old when Christ came to the earth. Some men from men that would have stood here.

If we return to live again on the earth, as we may do, Mr. Rockefeller, as a plain laborer, might eat his noon meal in the shade of one of his own sequoias and not know it.

All that come West see San Francisco. It is warm in winter, cool in summer.

Not everybody sees the University of California Medical School in San Francisco, and that's a mistake. Some of the ablest scientists in the country work there, encouraging the ignorant by answering questions.

That great school proves that good comes from bad. The people made a fortune cutting redwood trees, then slowly died of a painful disease of the hands called myxedema. He gave two millions to the medical school, that such disease might be studied and conquered.

Dr. Howard Morrow, distinguished expert in skin diseases, would like ladies to know that many of their skin troubles come from indigestion. Lupus, a disease that can be cured by injection in the veins of a gold solution. And cancer is treated successfully, when taken early, by "radium gold seed," planted in the cancer. The seeds are tiny, short tubes of pure gold, containing microscopic particles of radium. Fifteen or twenty may be planted in the tongue. They are never taken out.

STRESEMAN AND BRIAND AT GRIPS

German and French Leaders at The Hague Dispute Rhine-land Evacuation Details

London, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Esch cable Telegram Company today said it had learned British delegates at The Hague conference had made it clear to France and Germany that in the event of their coming to an agreement on evacuation of the Rhine-land, Great Britain would accept such an agreement unconditionally.

The Hague, Aug. 8 (AP)—French and German views on evacuation of the Rhine-land were exchanged today by Premier Briand of France and Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, in a private conversation at the Hotel des Indes.

While the French premier and German foreign minister were in accord on the general principle of evacuation of the occupied Rhine-land district they were at complete variance on the measure of control which is to be substituted for military forces.

M. Briand raised no objections to Stresemann's contention that evacuation should be concluded within three months after adoption of the Young plan except such objections as material difficulties of carrying out the plan.

He told Dr. Stresemann, however, that he could not acquiesce so readily in Stresemann's refusal to consider the setting up of a commission on the left bank of the Rhine to oversee German activities.

TRUSTEES CUT PENSIONS OF 400 MEN

Action Comes as a Big Surprise; New Plan Is to Be Followed in Future

More than 400 pensioned employees of the Boston Elevated Railroad were cut 20 per cent in their yearly income, according to an announcement made today by the trustees of the road.

Without any previous warning, the pensioners received notices of the cut in their mail this morning. Trustees of the Elevated, in explaining the cut, said "the fund of 2 per cent in the pension fund had been reached."

The trustees denied reports that they were considering cutting the minimum pension of $25 a day to a maximum pension of $200 annually.

The news that the pensioned men had received the cut came like a bombshell to the thousands of other employees. The active employees were apprehensive that a possible move to reduce the present wage scale might follow.

The trustees said in the future will be figured on a basis of one per cent of the cost of one and one quarter per cent, which has been the rate until now.

Actually 400 pensioned employees ranging in age from 60 years to 81 years are affected by the reduction of the trustees. The oldest pensioner is 81. He spent 25 years in active service on the road.

The average yearly income of a pensioner is $42. In the future the average will be $31.45.

The latest move of the trustees to save money for the road comes as a surprise because only two days ago, in a report on the road, it was stated that the road was "solid and morose" in its present position.

Husband Vanishes in $19,200 Hub Robbery

The mystery of the $19,200 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Lopez in their new home on Chelsea st., East Boston, was deepened today when it was learned that the husband has disappeared and the police are seeking him.

On returning to East Boston they found that Lopez had disappeared and the police are seeking him. "Mirfite" who has been involved in the case by Mrs. Lopez as one of the robbers, told police that on July 21 he was introduced to the two Albany

MAURETANIA'S FASTEST TRIP

New York, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Cunard liner Mauretania passed Albany Lightship at 10:28 a. m. Eastern daylight time today, completing a record crossing from Cherbourg in 6 days, 22 hours and 44 minutes.

The time was 3 hours and 50 minutes better than her own record, but 5 hours and 2 minutes behind the time of the champion North German Lloyd liner.

HEART-ZEPPELIN IN WORLD TOURISTS FAR OUT OVER ATLANTIC

IS ENROUTE TO VOYAGE EAST

delay as she was turned on the radio, rose steeply in the air.

Comdr. Hugo Eckener, at the control wheel in the forward cabin of the airship, took a course slightly east of north, directly toward New York and the Statue of Liberty and in a few minutes the ship was lost in darkness out of sight and sound. On board the Graf Zeppelin, Eckener started the first lap of his voyage, a trip that will circle the globe 22 passengers, a crew of 40, happy a Boston terror and a baby alligator.

All except seven of the passengers will depart at Friedrichshafen, Germany, home port of the Zeppelin.

Commander Eckener's law words before the Heart-Zeppelin round-the-world flight began promised a pleasant easy voyage for those who are riding now on the first lap of this historic flight.

The weather forecast at midnight showed excellent flying weather from New York to the Grand Banks. From the Grand Banks to midatlantic was a promise of fine weather, but the latter than average weather. From there on to the coast of Ireland, the forecast was somewhat indefinite, but there was no hint of storm.

IMPRESSIVE RITE
And with such an auspicious start, the good Dr. Eckener declared his hope of reaching the east of Ireland in between 45 and 50 hours.

The take-off was spectacular, with the ship which it was accompanied, indeed so, were orders made and obeyed, so early did things run, that the only thing that distinguished this departure from an every-day occurrence were the ceremonial accompaniments.

For a brief few moments in the air, before the ship began to move, a simple but impressive rite was held.

U. S. Atty. Charles H. Tuttle of New York, and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, gave a few words to the throng that had assembled at the west door of the hangar, near the passengers' cabin on the Zeppelin.

Mrs. Hearst expressed the thought of everyone watching her, as she said simply:

"This flight will make history. Tonight you are embarking on an historic venture. The accomplishment of which means so much to mankind. The entire world wishes you good luck, and God speed."

In another moment the first movement toward the flight over the world began.

At exactly 12:15 a. m. an officer leaned out of the aft cabin of the ship and cried: "Ready air."

ZEPPELIN RISES
A moment later "forward" reported ready. At 12:20 a. m. the ship began to move, and the hangar, a slight cross wind, perhaps the miles of the ship, Dr. Eckener to decide at the last minute to take his ship out of the hangar area first.

In just four minutes she was in the air.

Two taxi cars, one under the forward control and under the aft power cabin; six trolleys, three on each side of the ship, and more than four hundred sailors, marines and boy scouts had moved the dirigible.

She floated lightly, a few feet above the tulle, and only when she was being turned north, 200 yards from the hangar, was there any straining of the "spider" ropes.

For perhaps 10 minutes she paused in the field, shining a brilliant steel blue in the brilliant glare of the field beacon. Quickly the Zepp's keel was balanced, and the ship was ready to start.

"Up ship!"

Noise first, the Zepp rose majestically into the air, and the ship moved forward.

In the air could be seen a dull grey bulk, passengers crowding the dirigible forward, and the lanterns waving signals from five cabins on the sides and astern.

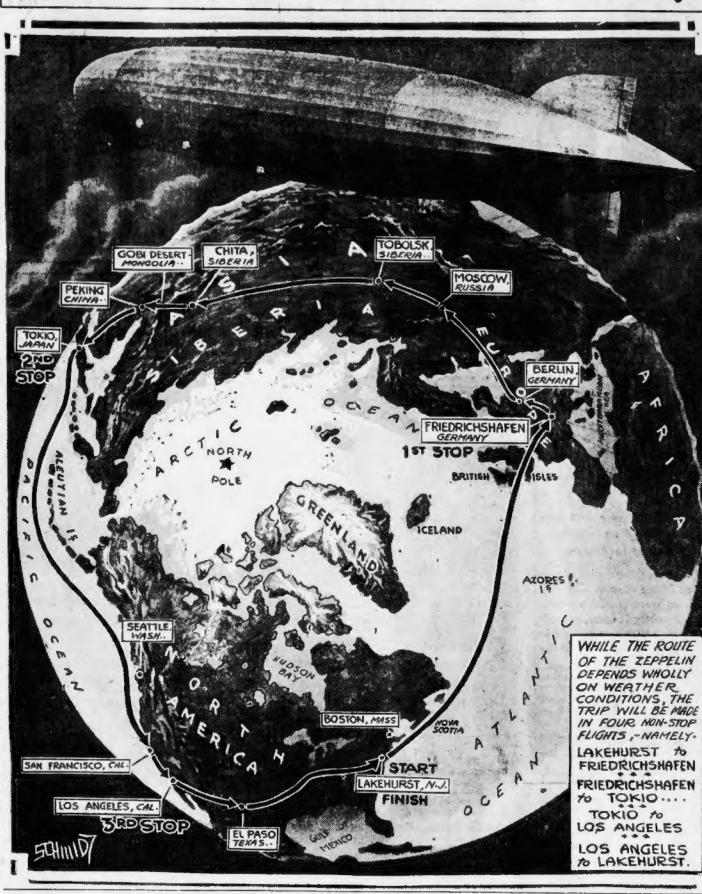

22 PASSENGERS
Even that much was visible only two or three minutes. The lanterns continued to flash in regular intervals, but they disappeared, and all that broke the still night was the rumble of the dirigible's motors as they soared away toward New York.

The last of the 22 passengers boarded the dirigible at midnight, and with his arrival was dispatched all the more that had promised to accompany the departure.

Successing last of passengers, announced at regular intervals between 5 o'clock and 10 had told of three passengers who could not be identified. They were, for the moment, passengers of mystery.

But when the time for departure came, the ship was ready.

How Graf Zeppelin Will Circle World in 21 Days

While the route of the Zeppelin depends wholly on weather conditions, the trip will be made in four non-stop flights—namely, Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen, Friedrichshafen to Tokyo, Tokyo to Los Angeles, and Los Angeles to Lakehurst.

A. F. L. CODED BY WOOD BRADEN

Convention Resents His Advocacy of the Prison Printing of Ballots

Lowell, Aug. 8—Mayor Thomas H. Braden of Lowell was unanimously condemned in a resolution passed today by the delegates attending the State Convention of the Massachusetts branch A. F. of L.

His stand in urging the printing of ballots in state prisons and for eliminating from the city budget an appropriation for the observance of Labor Day were given as reasons.

The progress of the convention was halted for a time by report of the resolution committee that for two days they have been unable to agree on the resolutions concerning public control of public ownership of the Boston Electric

HOLYOKE CONSIDERED
It was reported that E. A. Johnson and other labor leaders favoring public control were writing to withdraw their resolution.

The state fund workmen's compensation bill which a self-insurance bill was introduced in the state house and a resolution passed over the objections of the labor delegates from Holyoke.

A booklet containing officials' reports, which was handed to each delegate, contains a critique of the Holyoke labor organizations' behavior taken on the state house and workmen's compensation act.

At the convention today, John O'Neill and John Wood, of Holyoke, explained that the union which had objected to the bill because it contained no self-insurance clause.

Delegates from other cities held their own in the matter of the bill unless the insurance clause was continued in it.

COUPLE HIRED ROOM
It was reported that Mr. and Mrs. Latoria had just come from New York, where they lived on Cherry street.

The couple had hardly moved into their new home when Mrs. Latoria says, three men called and asked for room for the night.

At 8 o'clock the morning of August 7, the three men arrived and had appeared with guns and knives and forced the couple to turn the money over to them.

The robbery was engineered in Albany and the two of the hold-up men came from that city and returned to it with a loot.

PAT PENSIONS OF L' MEN
The pension rate among the men earning public is shown to be greater than among the white collar class. Only 8 out of every 100 persons died in 1920 from the same cause.

On Board Graf Zeppelin, Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 8—At 12:14 we begin to move out of the hangar. Weather map is excellent.

Dr. Eckener to me: "I think we will take a course about 200 miles south of Cape Hatteras. If present indications hold good, we should be able to follow the winter route of the rapidly developing science of aerodynamics."

Eckener was in excellent humor which allowed him to have the bridge over the water in the morning.

At 12:15 we are out of the hangar. Dr. Eckener is bending over the chart, looking at the dining room. We have never seen Eckener and the other skipper of the rapidly developing science of aerodynamics.

We shall have for New York Dr. Eckener, queen of the air, and a small crew of the Heart-Zeppelin found.

—ready and seemingly eager, to start the Heart-Zeppelin found. We have never seen Eckener and the other skipper of the rapidly developing science of aerodynamics.

BLACK CAT'S HER MASCOT ON FLIGHT

Only Woman Aboard Dirigible on 22,000-Mile Trip Happy to Be in the Air Again

By LADY DRUMMOND HAY
Only woman who will make the Round-the-World flight in the Graf Zeppelin.

Captain, King of the Air, has been chosen to lead the expedition. The Graf Zeppelin, which has been in the air for 10 years, is the only one of its kind in the world.

Lakehurst, N. J., Aug. 8.—I am on the Graf Zeppelin!

My baggage is packed in my cabin, and I am ready to start. The Graf Zeppelin is the only one of its kind in the world.

Number seven is almost "nine by tradition" now, and if there is not any particular rush to disperse my chains, it may be because accustomed to much air—I asked for extra, which Knut Eckener kindly arranged for me.

English are supposed to be good at flying, and I am not an exception. I have been flying for 10 years, and I am not an exception.

Looking round the little room where I will be sleeping, I find it is a very comfortable one. I have been flying for 10 years, and I am not an exception.

Lady Grace Drummond Hay, wife of the British ambassador in Washington, is the only woman to make the round-the-world flight.

She is accompanied by a crew of 10 men, and they will start on their journey tomorrow.

And now I am back again, sole occupant of the cabin on the other side of the world.

She is accompanied by a crew of 10 men, and they will start on their journey tomorrow.

And now I am back again, sole occupant of the cabin on the other side of the world.

She is accompanied by a crew of 10 men, and they will start on their journey tomorrow.

And now I am back again, sole occupant of the cabin on the other side of the world.

She is accompanied by a crew of 10 men, and they will start on their journey tomorrow.

And now I am back again, sole occupant of the cabin on the other side of the world.

She is accompanied by a crew of 10 men, and they will start on their journey tomorrow.

And now I am back again, sole occupant of the cabin on the other side of the world.

To the American Public:

I cannot express to the people of the United States the great feeling of gratitude I have for the remarkable encouragement and inspiration that I have received during my effort to accomplish something new.

It is my sincere hope that the Hestert-Zeppelin World Flight will be a great contribution toward the welfare of the world in general. It is my earnest desire that humanity profit through these efforts. That is why the extreme kindness of you good friends in the United States means so much to me in this supreme effort.

From the letters and telegrams received I know there is a tremendous and wide spread interest in the flight we are about to start around the world.

Those who wish to keep in touch with the daily affairs of the Zeppelin and her adventures will be able to do so through the arrangement I have made with a large chain of American newspapers—the Hestert-Zeppelin—which are published in various cities from coast to coast.

Under this arrangement the news dispatches and special feature dispatches from the Zeppelin will go direct and exclusively to the New York, American in New York City and the allied Hestert-Zeppelin newspapers throughout the country.

On each day of the trip I will be thinking of my friends in the United States.

Sincerely,

Hestert

Col. Green Rows With 'Ice Cream Panters'

New Bedford, Aug. 8.—Colonel E. H. Green, millionaire philanthropist and son of Hestert Green, the world's richest woman at the time of her death, ejected forcibly from his home by three men, said to be members of the "Ice Cream Panters," who objected to his illuminating his property by night, and termed the act a "slaughter house."

Democrat Lloyd Washington and Boston writer, admitted he was one of the three ordered out by the doctored column, but said the whole incident was just a case of Colonel Green losing his head.

Colonel Green has been at war with the Nonquitt and Selter's Point neighbors ever since he opened his palatial estate to the public.

Colonel Green was frank to tell the whole story. Ever since he announced that 8,000,000 candlepower flood lights would illuminate the field Mr. Lloyd has attempted to see him.

"I said, 'All you fellows have to do is sit around on your porch chairs in the "ice-cream pants" and think up trouble.' The only time I've ever seen them is when they come out here and see my swimming pool and my beach. That's all right."

So, Boston Street News Completion

Work on East Eighth st. South Boston, is nearing completion, despite protest allegations hurled at the street commission by the South Boston Citizens' Association.

"Change loose material is being used," was the charge of John Wender, vice-president of the organization, who issued a statement in Commissioner Atwood recently.

East Eighth st. is now being repaved, tracks removed in preparation for the new bus line between the street. The material used, Wender charges, "is of practically no value as a street, which costs heavy traffic."

Silver Loving Cup Baseball Trophy

Jack Kittenman, Chelsea deputy treasurer, has donated a silver loving cup to be awarded the winning team in a baseball game to be played at Salem Widdows on August 18. The silver loving cup is a handsome trophy.

Ship Wins Race to Hub by Six Hours

With the arrival of the steamers "Edith" and "Editha" from the Cape, Capt. Rick, there ended a long race to the hub. The "Edith" won the race by six hours.

The pair, evenly matched, left San Juan on the evening of July 11, each loaded with 4200 tons of raw sugar. While the officers would not admit that the steamers were racing, there was considerable excitement among the crew on the "Edith" as to which would win.

'NEW NIAGARA' PLAN TO COST $125,000,000

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 8 (AP)—The Charlotte Observer today says a "new Niagara" is planned in the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee by the Aluminum Company of America, which will spend $125,000,000 in development of hydro-electric projects.

Through eight separate dams, the paper says in a special dispatch from Asheville, N. C., electrical power exceeding in magnitude the energy now generated by Niagara Falls will be created. Seven of the eight projects named in the newspaper story will be in western North Carolina and the other in Tennessee.

The figures represented were identified by Sister Mary Aquinas as the realisation of a project, known as the "new Niagara," and English Knight of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, and the Count of Savoy and Piero III of Aragon, a prominent Florentine contemporary of the others.

Police Commissioner Wilson issued a bombshell into the ranks of the Boston police department when the long awaited promotions, which the entire department anxiously expected, failed to materialize.

A leak from the commissioner's office, giving out advance notice on the promotions, was blamed for the disappointment.

It is understood a general shake-up was to accompany the promotions, with many transfers scheduled.

Disappointment reigned in every station house when mailmen came to deliver the long awaited list of names at headquarters without the coveted orders. Yet second only to the chagrin of the uniformed men was the anger expressed by the members of the detective bureau.

Police headquarters, when they learned of an interview given by the commissioner announcing that there would be no promotions for detectives, sergeants and patrolmen attached to this important unit.

Rejection of the list of names to return to uniform duty at station houses. They argued that the promotion of officers instead of detectives would mean a loss of the salary pay and be in position to obtain promotion. They also pointed out that the promotion of officers would mean a loss of the salary pay and be in position to obtain promotion.

Slayer Wife Confers With New Counsel

Mrs. Angelina Bruno, Romeville mother of three children, charged with the murder of her husband, Anthony, today retained Attorney W. V. Connelly as counsel.

She is expected to appear in court for a preliminary hearing in Romeville today.

"KEEPING WATCH"

I need this one for this occasion when I may have to get up in the middle of the night to "take my watch" or to look at some night vision from the windows of the "Zeppelin" cabin. On this flight, Karl von Wiegand, Sir Hubert Wilkins and myself are going to take turns at "keeping watch," just like the officers will be doing in the control cabin, or as marine officers do on ships.

There will be as much to see as much to write about every minute of this wonderful expedition, that we do not want to lose a single minute of it. So we are taking it in turns to be "on watch" in order that you who are following our trip in the Hearst papers may not miss a scrap of all that is happening.

Tokio, where I will probably stay three or four days may be grilling hot and sun-baked. From Tokyo to Los Angeles, the Pacific Ocean, undoubtedly will be sailing. If not, we will have a cold and raw, and you in America know the climate of Los Angeles at this time of year better than I do.

Any woman can in imagination understand and share the problem which confronted me, as I stood before my big suitcase to take, what I was carrying with me on earth to take, what to leave.

Evening Gowns

I thought that two evening frocks would be enough, one white, with a close-fitting lace bodice and fluffy white skirt, the other a "greige," that is a greige, lace dress.

Two of silver shoes will do for both dresses. A black dinner or afternoon dress with frilled skirt, long at the back, and black shoes. I thought I would have a white dress with a white skirt, but that I had to pack.

So I carried it in my hand. And tried to manage that Dr. Eckener would not see me with a white dress. I had a white dress, but that I had to pack.

Then I had two afternoon summer dresses, one all white, the other a copy of a model which was beautiful in London; the other I bought in New York, and a "little chiton" (cocktail) jacket to carry a lovely evening dress. I thought I would have a white dress, but that I had to pack.

AL SMITH FOR REDUCED TAX ON INCOMES

Joining in the campaign to secure a reduction of the federal tax on earned income, "Al" Smith of New York has endorsed the drive of the Boston Evening American and associated Hearst newspapers to secure millions of signatures in petitions to Congress.

"Alfred E. Smith, author," was the way this former presidential candidate signed his name and occupation. The word "author" refers to the autobiography he is writing.

Former Governor Smith, keenly appreciates the importance of this campaign. The announcement of his endorsement is expected to bring thousands of his followers to the nation-wide campaign.

Petitions have been printed by the Boston Evening American and are now available to those wishing to take part with former Governor Smith and hundreds of other leaders of public thought.

NEW BEACH FOR EAST BOSTON SWIMMERS

A bathing beach and a new $75,000 bathhouse for residents of East Boston became a certainty when Mayor Nichols signed the loan order which was passed by the City Council at Monday's meeting. The Mayor stated that work on the new bathhouse will be started as soon as bids are advertised and received from contractors.

The new bathing beach will be located at the extremity of World War Memorial Park. The old bathhouse site has been ruined for bathing purposes because of filling in the adjoining water to provide more land for the East Boston Airport.

Mayor Nichols signed his approval to the legislative act authorizing the city to spend $1,700,000 for the widening of Centre and St. Ann sts., West Roxbury, in order to relieve traffic congestion on the Providence motor route.

There are now four loan orders, to provide for the construction of the two widening, before the Council and as soon as they are approved, actual work will be started to widen Centre at from 28 to 60 feet and to extend St. Ann from Forest Hills almost to Roslindale sq.

BOARD TO STUDY 11 PHASES OF CRIME

Washington, Aug. 8.—The National Law Enforcement commission, as a result of its preliminary study of crime conditions in the United States during the past four months has decided to pursue its investigation into 11 different phases of the problem.

Of the subjects to be surveyed, which range from the causes and cost of crime to the work of police and the courts, prohibition will be the only law to be specifically studied. In investigating the various phases of lawlessness and law enforcement, the commission has been divided into 11 committees. The subject to be surveyed were announced by the commission as follows:

The causes of crime; statistics of crime and criminal justice; police; prosecution; courts; penal institutions; probation and parole; prohibition; juvenile delinquency; criminal justice and the foreign-born; lawlessness by government.

Duelists Miss Each Other, Both Shoot Referee

Mexico City, Aug. 8.—Two men fought a duel with pistols at 50 paces and both shot the referee, who is dying, police authorities revealed today.

Miguel Martines was the referee. As the men fired, he fell, shot twice through the chest. Both duelists have disappeared.

law enforcing officers; the cost of crime.

Dean Roscoe Pound of Harvard Law School is chairman of the committee on statistics of crime and criminal justice.

Mrs. Ada L. Conestock, president of Radcliffe College, and the only woman on the commission, was designated to head the committee dealing with juvenile delinquency.

George W. Wickersham, chairman of the commission, will be an ex-officio member of each of the 11 committees and will head the body that will study prohibition.

5 WOMEN HURT IN CRASH OF BIG PLANE

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—One passenger was seriously injured and several other passengers and two pilots escaped with minor injuries as a tri-motored airplane was forced down by motor trouble and wrecked here.

Failure of the ignition in two engines of the plane shortly after its takeoff from the Grand Central Air Terminal for San Diego, forced the ship down. The plane's wings were demolished and its motors torn off.

Mrs. J. L. Warner of Tacoma, Wash., suffered broken ribs and a fractured pelvic bone. The others injured were L. C. Taylor, and Mrs. Elsie Thompson, both of Los Angeles; Miss Gladie Snyder and J. E. Patterson of Oakland, Calif.; Ray Sullivan, San Francisco; Edward Hubbs, Detroit, and Miss Marie Richardson, Redlands, Cal. The pilots, Los Angeles men, were John Wood and E. C. McCord.

JEWISH AGENCY WILL INCLUDE NON-ZIONISTS

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 8 (Jewish Telegraph Agency)—The Jewish Agency Constitution, insuring inclusion of non-Zionist Jews in the rehabilitation of Palestine, was passed today by a majority vote at the sixteenth Zionist Congress in session here.

The vote came before dawn after a debate extending through the preceding evening. A number of amendments from a group proposed by radical Zionists, Zionist Revisionists, and the Poale Zion labor delegates were passed with the constitution.

Dr. George Halperin of London, chairman of the committee on the Jewish agency's constitution, submitted the final text of the constitution, while Martin Rothberg of New York, vice president of the Zionist organization of America, led the fight for ratification.

The constitution will govern the composition of any functions of the enlarged all-Jewish body to be created by Zionists and non-Zionists at a special conference to be held at Zurich beginning Sunday, with 110 Zionists and 110 non-Zionists participating.

Zionists will include 40 prominent Americans headed by Louis Marshall and Felix M. Warburg.

35 STATES NEW ENGLAND AIR MEET

By GEORGE W. HAMBLEN

Edgartown, Aug. 8.—Promise of fair skies and light winds have raised the enthusiasm on this island of Martha's Vineyard to a high pitch for the second annual all New England air meet, to take place Saturday and Sunday of this week at the Curtiss airport here.

Entries for the various events have been received from more than 20 New England pilots, and with the presence of a squadron of army planes from the Boston airport, a dozen or more planes from the various Curtiss bases in the six states, a total of 25 planes in the meet is assured.

The airport south of Edgartown is in first-class condition, due to the efforts of Harry Copland, manager of the Curtiss summer flyer school here. All the high spots have been leveled and the low places have been filled up.

A permit issued by the selectmen of Edgartown to allow the two roads passing the field to be roped off to keep the automobile parking under control, makes the possibility of any confusion remote.

Some of the fastest commercial and army planes are expected. The stunt flying exhibitions of Lieut. Crocker Snow, of Skyways, Inc.; Lieut. Frank C. Crowley, Boston and New York air mail pilot; Lieut. Ray C. Van Arsdale, of North Atlantic Aviation Corp., and several others too numerous to mention are sure to have the spectators standing on top toes.

The police arrangements are under the direction of Chief Leon Brown, of Edgartown, and he has enlarged his staff to take care of the several thousand automobiles that will drive out to the airport.

The program of each day will begin with an aerial parade at 300 feet over the island, with every ship on the field participating. The sight of so many airplanes flying in battle formation is sure to thrill the islanders and summer visitors. Every size and type of airplane will be seen on the airport during the two-day aerial party, from the giant Ford trimotor to the speedy little Great Lakes and Moth Sport planes.

All the ships will be licensed by the federal and state, and only transport pilots will be permitted to carry passengers. In this way the spectators who go up for air-ship rides during the meet will be assured of a safe and sane ride. The meet is sponsored by the Curtiss Flying Service, and arrangements have been made in charge of Harry Copland, John R. Lusk, local traffic manager for Curtiss, the writer and Robert Foote.

Though "historically minded," McLaglen is up-to-the-minute when it comes to traveling. He arrived at the airport in a flying boat two and a quarter hours after leaving New York.

DRUG MENACE IS INCREASED, U. S. REPORTS

Washington, Aug. 8.—How extensively the dope effort has spread over the country since the signing revealed in the announcement by the federal narcotics division that 500 persons were convicted during the 1929 fiscal year for violating the laws.

This far exceeds all previous records.

The aggregate sentences imposed on the narcotic offenders totaled more than 11,000 years, indicating a tendency on the part of courts to deal more harshly with this type of criminal, the announcement yesterday stated.

Convictions obtained represented 97.8 percent of the total number of cases brought by government agents.

These facts are contained in a report the Government is preparing for the League of Nations. Under a previous agreement, America submits to Geneva an annual statement on the narcotic situation.

In announcing yesterday he would ask Congress for $2,000,000 to enlarge existing prison facilities to prevent further riots, President Hoover declared that 25 percent of the federal prison population were now being violated by the narcotics released by the narcotics bureau.

The figure is increasing at such an alarming rate which will constitute, if the present rate continues, nearly one half of the total prisoners before additional accommodations can be provided to segregate them.

DIVER TO SEEK MORE 'DIPLOMA MILL SEALS'

Chicago, Aug. 8 (NS)—After recovering several medical school seals from Lake Michigan, Diver Frank Blair was to dive today in the drainage canal in an effort to locate certain state seals.

These seals were thrown into the canal at this point by Albert Carl Barron, indicted member of the medical school ring, according to the story he told police. It was one of the seals that Blair recovered the seal yesterday.

Other developments yesterday in the probe of the "diploma mill" included Col. W. H. H. Miller, former head of the State department of education and registration, announced he will surrender tomorrow, and charge the affair as a political plot against him.

Chief Investigator Patrick Roche declared that State's Atty. General Nelson is not necessarily under a cloud of suspicion, despite the fact he allowed certain evidence to be read by indicted members of the ring.

The seals recovered were those used by the medical schools of the University of Chicago and Northwestern University. They are said by the State's attorney's office to be used as evidence in the forthcoming trial of members of the ring.

Prominent Milwaukeeans of all political and social beliefs, among those who voted tribute to the congressman and publisher today.

In AUGUST drink this COOLING energy-beverage at meals—between meals

Be very, very careful about what you drink now," warns the health department of every large city as the thermometer goes up. "But drink all you want of water and cool food-beverages."

High on the dietitian's list of cool food-beverages for summer-time is Clicquot Club Golden ginger ale, with its delicious mellow flavor and its quick-energy "invert" sugar. Cooling, yet kept by its pure Jamaica ginger from having the sudden chilling effect of ice-water, Clicquot Club Golden puts new life into you on days when it seems nothing else can.

Then too there is a regulatory quality about Clicquot Club, because of the double carbonation and mellow groups of pure fruit juices. It helps keep you fit.

This fine aged ginger ale isn't expensive. Carefully aged Clicquot Club Golden really costs no more, ounce for ounce, than ordinary ginger ales. And yet you can notice the difference in flavor instantly—the mellow rich taste that only Clicquot's patient aging can give it's really more economical to buy Clicquot Club because it comes in full pint 16-ounce bottles, just the right size for regular use.

Buy Clicquot Club in two sizes, 12-bottle cartons or by the case. You can always have plenty for everybody, and yet serve it fresh and sparkling, because you open only a pint at a time. Every bottle is a clear new one too—you know this ginger ale is pure. And how it does "pick you up" in the middle of a hot day or a breathless evening! That delicious golden flavor—there's nothing else quite so good! At your dealer's.

Note: If you like a "dry" ginger ale better than the "golden" flavor, ask for Clicquot Club Pale Dry. For an extra dry ginger ale, ask for Clicquot Club Sec.

PRICE OF EGGS JUMPS NEXT WEEK

This week is an excellent time to buy eggs, as a radical jump in prices is expected for next week due to heavy demand and diminishing supply, dealers at Faneuil Hall today revealed.

Eggs now range from 48 cents for the "strictly fresh" Western variety, to 77 cents for local products known to be a day or two old. Fish has gone up in price since last week, due to limited supply. Some of the prices are: Seafood, 45 cents; lobster, 65; fresh crab, 80; mackerel, 20; and halibut, 40.

Mackerel seems to be fluctuating most in price, last week being only 12 cents a pound. Mackerel are still high, but with no appreciable increase. Pure is steady. Seedling grapes come on the market today at 35 cents a pound. Oranges have advanced slightly, now being 10 cents a dozen. Mushrooms, once $2 a pound, have dropped 50 cents. Native selected corn has dropped from 31 to 30 cents. Corn may be bought for 50 cents a dozen, but much of this quality has to be thrown away as the corn borer has been at work. There is an excellent grade of honey on the market now at reasonable prices. The new honey is expected next month.

TRUCE IN ROW OVER BEACH

Middleton, R. I., Aug. 8.—A truce has been declared, at least until fall term of the Superior Court at Newport, in the battle of the Second Beach at Middletown. Under the terms of the truce, Otto Vicht of Newport, lessee of the beach from the Newport Hospital Corporation for parking privileges, is continuing to charge 50 cents per machine for parking there.

On the other hand, the citizens of this town are not only allowed to gather seaweed and sand on the beach, as in years gone by, but they are also allowed to walk on the beach without a fee, providing they show their "credentials."

MILDRED CAN'T COME BECAUSE HER WASHDAY SHE'S SCRUBBING HER CLOTHES—JUST IMAGINE!

NEXT WASHDAY

SO YOU TOOK OUR ADVICE, MILDRED! ONLY RINSO CAN GET CLOTHES SO WHITE.

This scrubbless Rinso way saves your clothes!

NO woman is strong enough to scrub a family wash every week without feeling it. No clothes are sturdy enough to be scrubbed and boiled every week without getting threadbare long before they should.

Use Rinso—the granulated soap that soaks out dirt—saves the clothes—and washes them whiter than ever! The suds do it. Rinso suds are thick, creamy, and long-lasting. The makers of 37 leading washers recommend Rinso.

Cupful for cupful, this compact soap gives twice as much suds as the lightweight, puffed-up kind. Get the BIG package.

Parker Borrows Gas From Police to Move Auto

Eino H. Goodwin, 18, of Canton, N. Y., was found with his car parked in a restricted area in Central sq. When asked to move it he replied he would like to, but he had no gasoline in the machine and lacked money to buy some.

At Station 2 he asked Capt. John J. Canney if he could leave the car in the square until he obtained work. Capt. Canney bowed young Goodwin five gallies of gas from the station pump with instructions to pay for it as soon as possible.

CLEVER GIRL PLAYER FOR THE GUILD

By LEIGH HARRIDGE

THE latest addition to biographical talent in Greater Boston is Miss Christine Putnam, of the famous Putnam and Lowell families of New England. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Russell Lowell Putnam of Martha's Vineyard and New York city, and is a grandniece of the poet, James Russell Lowell, who brings to the Boston stage a treasure of real ability, first noted when she was a pupil in a Massachusetts school.

Miss Putnam has been engaged to play the part of Cecily in Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest," which will be the next week's bill of the Playboys Theater Guild, at the New Playhouse Theater. Those who have watched her work—and the glowing reviews which have been given to her—will be sure to see the flowering of an exceptionally able young actress, destined to make a name for herself on the American stage.

COMING OF parents beloved in Dutch County where the name of Dr. Putnam is a household word, Miss Putnam is a housewife much from them; and she has been given an splendid education for her life work. Her education happened at one time to be her subjects, and she has been a literary career. She has been a useful verse and prose, some of which have been printed in magazines.

Her work in school drama, however, was the real indicator of the field she was to choose later. She still writes, poetry, chiefly, but declares her real true love is not literature, but the stage.

MISS PUTNAM well known in society circles. She is an excellent athlete, a peppy tennis player, splendid equestrian, and a fast swimmer. She was one of the best riders on Martha's Vineyard, and she has been a sister has taken many prizes in society's horse shows, there and in New York City.

IN the Wilds play Miss Putnam will play Cecily in "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde. Katherine Warren will play Gertrude, Bruce DeLette as Jack, and Hilda Fennell as Cecily. SCREEN STAR TELLS HOW TO DRESS

LET the average girl dress to suit her personality, says Norma Talmadge, and she will increase her attractiveness 100 per cent. The star of the tentatively titled "Tin Pan Alley," just completed at the United Artists studios, as Miss Talmadge's first all-talking picture, feels that too many young women wear the sort of clothes that look attractive on others.

"And they overlook the fact," says Miss Talmadge, "that what may appear smart on one person is ludicrous and unsuitable on themselves."

"I would recommend that every girl study her personality and dress accordingly. It isn't hard to do."

Miss Talmadge feels that gaudiness is as apt to wear as a thing of fashion. She is a color, she feels, as a natural color, and she feels that bad lines and bad colors are bad lines and bad colors.

Goes to Ireland. Frank J. Morgan, Fox director, will sail from New York Saturday, Aug. 17, for Ireland where he will direct John McCracken. The star will sing at least 10 songs, including a number of old favorites, and several original compositions on which Charles H. Workfield Catman now is working in California.

Added to Cast. Fannie Midgely has been added to the cast of the Tiffany-Stahl all-talker, "Kathleen," starring F. O. Z. N.

Key Francis, the brunnette actress who competed with Clara Bow for the affection of Richard Arlen in "Dangerous Curves," was assigned to play one of the principal roles in the talking picture of Edith Wharton's novel, "The Children."

Harry Blackwell, one of the ace cameramen of the motion picture business, has signed a new contract. Mr. Blackwell has been photographing since 1923 with but few interruptions.

One hundred male voices were tested to select 40 for the chorus of Grenadiers in Paramount's production of "The Love Parade," the talking screen's first original operetta. The singers were recruited from the Los Angeles schools, from the Los Angeles Grand opera company, and from the stage. These men, with Jeanette MacDonald, sing the most inspiring number of Victor Schertzinger's original score, "The Love Parade," being sung by Maurice Chevalier, the voice of the French cabaret, and a libretto by Guy Bolton.

$200 IN AWARDS FOR ZEPP TIME ESTIMATE

Ship, $50; a fourth of $10 and a fifth of $10 will be awarded.

Readers may submit as many estimates as they desire, but each must be accompanied by a completed map made up of the strip as they appear in the Boston Evening American and Boston Sunday Advertiser.

The Graf Zeppelin is today flying on the most romantic adventure of the age—circling the globe in a flight broken by but three stops. The Zeppelin Around the World Flight writes a new page of the skies.

From the giant ship exclusive news dispatches and descriptions of the flight are to be radioed in the Hearst Newspapers. Day by day and hour by hour the flight can be followed, as no other flight has been in history. Trained observers and brilliant writers will report every detail of the trip for readers of this paper.

These dispatches will attract the attention of the whole world. For readers of the Boston American and Boston Sunday Advertiser, they have a double significance, as they form a basis for recording the progress of the flight on the daily strip map published in the paper and for estimating the time which the flight will require.

Read the daily exclusive news stories of the flight. Cut out the map strips and chart the progress of the flight—and then when the last strip map is published, paste up your completed map and send it to the World-Flight Contest.

P. O. Box 1000, Boston, together with your estimate of the Graf Zeppelin's flying time for the Around the World Flight.

Revere Will Open White Way, Aug. 21

Revere's new "White Way" and Broadway automatic traffic signal system will be inaugurated on Wednesday night, Aug. 21. As a special feature, the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce is planning a program of block dancing, band concerts and fireworks to be presented on that date. Patriotic and fraternal organizations are also to participate in the festivities. Posters advertising the celebration are now being distributed by the Merchants Division.

You'll save in energy with a permanent—it's such a task to keep your hair in the pink of condition in warm weather. Even a Louise-bouffant frock looks like a multitude but a dress if your hair dressing is frumpy—not immaculate.

You'll save on the budget if you're having a permanent now. Besides, our shop is unusually cool and airy, has recently been enlarged especially for permanent waving. Here are the five ways to have waving done:

MAY BLOCK J. S. SHIPPING ON ST. LAWRENCE

Williamstown, Aug. 8 (AP)—Canada will be justified in refusing passage to American shipping through that part of the St. Lawrence river which flows only through the dominion of the Chicago canal, if lowering water levels to a point where navigation is impaired, is proved a violation of treaties between the two countries.

Dean P. E. Corbett of McGill University told members of the Institute of Politics today.

Discussing the question of the Chicago canal, which connects Lake Michigan with the Mississippi river and its effect upon the St. Lawrence system, Dean Corbett said:

"The rights of Americans to use the St. Lawrence from St. Regis, where the river leaves state territory, to the sea as an avenue of commerce depends solely upon a series of treaties between Canada and the United States, guaranteeing unimpeded navigation to Americans and Canadians alike in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence system."

"Canada does not admit that there is any act of interference with law apart from treaty, giving an upper riparian state the right to navigate the waters of a lower riparian state."

"Now, if the Chicago diversion by lowering water levels to a point where navigation is impeded and existing harbor facilities impaired is a violation of those treaties and that is the Canadian view—the Dominion would be justified in holding that she is released from her treaty terms."

"The very treaties which grant Americans the right to sail the St. Lawrence through Canadian territory also lay down the rule that Canadians shall have free and unhindered navigation of all boundary waters."

"Now, if the Chicago diversion by lowering water levels to a point where navigation is impeded and existing harbor facilities impaired is a violation of those treaties and that is the Canadian view—the Dominion would be justified in holding that she is released from her treaty terms."

NEW MARRIAGE RULES ARE NOW USED IN ITALY

Rome, Aug. 8 (AP)—Today throughout all Italy the new marriage rules and regulations called for by the divorce law between Italy and the Holy See came into effect.

Wherever young couples went to the altar to be married they listened to the priest's explanation that now and hereforth marriage by the church is sufficient and marriage by the state is not necessary.

There was a great rush of young couples to avail themselves of the new simplified procedure, many having put off their marriage date on all the new second week effect.

During the last several weeks the priests of the kingdom have been studying the instructions issued by the Vatican. At the same time the newspapers have been acquiring the people of what they must do.

Italy, everyone in Italy who had married, was marrying or intended to marry knew more or less thoroughly what of the old order had been changed and what retained.

Fundamentally, the new regulations do not make radical changes. Simply all they do is to bring marriage by the church to the same status of marriage by the state.

SEVEN FREIGHT CAR FULL OF CANADIAN ALE ON WAY TO CHELSEA

BREW DESTINED FOR PUB CLUBS, OFFICERS SAY

Vermont Freight Terminal
Scene of Large Seizure,
Shipped From Detroit

Consigned to a Chelsea railroad siding, and believed to be intended for exclusive Boston pubs, a freight car filled with Canadian ale was seized by Inspector F. L. Eaton of the federal prohibition enforcement bureau of Rutland, Vt., at White River Junction, Vt.

Receiving information that such a car had arrived at White River Junction, Inspector Eaton went down and found the car filled to capacity, and containing more than 700 cases of Canadian ale, each case containing 60 pint bottles. The car was built from Detroit, Mich., for Chelsea.

Inspector Eaton wired the Rutland office and while waiting for further instructions a second car was received in the freight yard containing a like amount of Canadian ale. B. S. Hyland of Rutland, head of Vermont Federal Prohibition Bureau, estimated that there are in the vicinity of 80,000 cases of Canadian ale in the two cars, which contain approximately 1500 cases. He considers it the largest liquor seizure ever made in Vermont.

BABY, 3, DOES ACROBATICS

"Baby" Gloria Barth, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Barth of Toledo, O., has a notion all her own for keeping in perfect health and demonstrates it each morning at the Brighton Camp, where she is a favorite among the tourists.

Under the direction of her mother, Mrs. Barth, she goes through a series of exercises and acrobatics with a snap and precision that will melt almost any baby's heart.

The child, a wanderer at heart, trips about the country since infancy, and shows the same life spirit in the open. "Baby" Gloria's ambition is to become a talented acrobatic performer. Her rigorous training is in preparation for a career behind the footlights.

KELVINATOR CO. HAS OUTING

About 350 employees of the Boston Kelvinator Company abandoned work yesterday and went on an all-day outing at the Pemberton Inn, Pemberton. After a month of record-breaking sales, the company decided to hold a celebration, and all the members of the sales and service and installation departments in the Boston office were given a holiday.

The party assembled at the Pemberton Inn early in the afternoon, by automobile and by boat. A hall came between the sales and service and installation departments was the first thing on the program.

The contest ended after a five-minute battle with the salesman victors by a 6 to 4 score. However, this was not actually the end of the contest, for the umpire had been substituted.

Praise, Abuse Heaped on 'Good Boy'

Winthrop's Good Boy who doesn't smoke or drink or kiss as a rule or indulge in any forward conduct has caused a furore in homes and other circles.

When Francis Modriker, Jr., submitted his incomparable record for consideration and when it was denounced by one of Uncle Sam's own cannoniers at Newport, R. I., neither knew what a controversy was about to be started.

For Modriker accepted the challenge, replied to the sailor's charges and asked for public consideration.

Critics, boys and even mothers have entered the controversy and the Boston Evening American has received countless letters in which the boy is denounced, praised, divided and even blessed.

"I with more boys were like Winthrop's Good Boy. I believe he is setting a good example for the young folk," writes "Just Mother A. J." to the editor.

"The Good Boy is gaining something in life and the sailor is losing the thrill that comes out of life because of overdoing it. I agree with the Good Boy that it is more real men and women to refuse a drink at a party. I think there is more sense in setting an example like he has, than some of these crazy stunts that are being dared from time to time."

A young lady who signed herself as "One of Those Terrible Females" says the Winthrop young man is missing a lot. "There is nothing better than loving and being loved," she writes.

The Dorchester miss writes she is out of patience with Modriker and labels him a "braggart."

"He is so self-centered he hasn't taken time to become interested in the female race and naturally is not interested in kissing," she writes. "He is missing a lot. It is not temptation for some people to smoke or drink. Perhaps he has no taste for either. That's fine, but why brag about it? I consider honesty, generosity, unselfishness, kindness to animals and thoughtfulness of others much finer virtues than those which he brags about. I know lots of fellows who have never smoked or drunk or kissed to any great extent but they don't advertise it."

"I agree with the sailor. Your Winthrop miss will not get to heaven any sooner than anyone else and he's missing a lot of fun on earth. All he has to do is be moderate and a good fellow."

From another sailor at the U. S. Naval Hospital, comes the suggestion that Modriker has taken his mind off the subject, "writes Weldon Cunard Case of the Chelsea Evening Herald."

What do you think Reader? Should a young man Modriker, or kiss?

Communications should be brief and addressed to the Good Boy Editor, Boston American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

7 BOSTON GIRLS TO BE SISTERS

Lives of benevolence and mercy will be the ultimate goal of seven Boston Dorchester and South Boston girls who enter into the Sisters of Charity in Halifax, N. S., next week.

Fond farewells will be waved to parents and former schoolmates and hundreds of friends from the dock of the Yarmouth boat which sails Tuesday.

The girls, all graduates of St. Margaret's high and grammar schools, North Dorchester, are: Agnes McGowan, 15, Rutherfordwood st., South Boston; Evelyn Givins, 16, Vernon st., South Boston; Mary Slavin, 17, Tremont st., Dorchester; Mildred Cope, 17, New st., Dorchester; Marie Fitzgerald, 16, Cranston st., Dorchester; Catherine McGowan, 16, St. Margaret's st., Dorchester; and Theresa Cadogan of 12 Canton st., Dorchester.

Miss McGowan, who graduated in '28, was the honor student of her class, while both Miss Fitzgerald and Miss McGowan have sisters already in the order.

GULF SUSPECT CLODES COP

Patrolman Philip Gallo of the Revere police, driving a police patrol car, today chased a suspected runaway to West Lynn, firing two shots in an unsuccessful attempt to bring the machine to a stop.

Because of a flapping registration plate the officer was unable to get the number of the suspected car which disappeared.

Gallo was driving on Broadway when he saw the machine turning from the International highway and gave chase. The pursuit led along the Lynn Marsh road, to West Lynn, where it was given up.

Old Boston in Pictures—No. 25

At the time when the colonists were burdened by heavy taxation, and under the provisions of the Boston Port Bill, the city was virtually under martial law, such scenes as the one were common. This engraving, the 25th in the Old Boston series, shows John Malcolm, a customs officer, on the banks of a mud on State st., 1774. Malcolm is about to be flogged, feathered, even while the women look on. Another picture in the series will be posted to the museum.

SHEPARD GIVES CHECKS, THANKS

John Shepard, Jr., Boston merchant, whose mansion in Lenox was badly damaged by fire early Sunday morning, with a loss estimated at $50,000, has expressed his thanks to the Lenox and Lenox fire departments for their assistance and sent a check for $500 to each.

Mr. Shepard told Fire Chief O. C. Hutchinson of Lenox that he sees the need for more fire departments in Lenox and that he will start a subscription list among summer cottagers with a check for $500.

This amount and the other contributions will be used to purchase a combination ladder truck.

Find No Trace of Mysterious Boat

After a search of some hours, Coast Guards declared no trace could be found of the mysterious motor boat reported to have been seen half sailing off Mowat Light by Capt. D. M. MacDonald of the U. S. Navy.

Capt. MacDonald told officials of the Maritime Association that while passing the light on the United States company's steamship he saw the motor house of a great painted motor boat showing above water.

Sharkey and Loughran
Best of the Heavies
This Fight a Natural

Managers Licked Max
But He's Young Yet
The Babe in Again

SHARKEY AND LOUGHRAN BEST OF THE HEAVIES

PERHAPS the tireless Schmeling controversy was all for the best. Der Max, through no fault of his own, has been tossed into the bucket and a real fight will settle the parking spot of the heavyweight championship.

Jack Sharkey and Tommy Loughran are the two best heavies in the country. A couple of warriors who have taken on all comers regardless. Neither ever tried to duck any sort of a match. And the pair stick out over the rest of the field like a couple of Woolworth towers.

The collision between Jack and Thomas will be a real ring war. They are a team of smart, clever, courageous young men, and with the title at stake, they will be in there going on high all the way.

Weight Favors Sharkey
It is a ring axiom that a good big man can lick a good little man. Sharkey will have a 15-pound edge on his rival. And that should mean the decision in the course of a fast, hard fight.

Loughran is one of the cleverest champions in the game. He is a defensive wonder. He has won most of his fights by letting the other fellow try and miss. Then Thomas reaches in, and scores. He doesn't knock 'em dead.

Sharkey has cleverness of his own, however. He's much smarter than a lot of the boys think. He has a good enough boxer to coast along when he knows he has the edge. He did an artistic job that way with Stripling down in Miami. He lost a decision to Risks by following that program, and was handed a draw with Heeney. But he didn't have the best of the decision in either case.

Jack isn't going to be any soft target for Loughran. He has a left as good as the light heavy champ's, and he's a harder hitter. And that extra poundage should bring him in a winner.

Too Many Managers
Schmeling is out, which is tough on him. But he's young, and may recover from too much managing. The explosion may be a lesson to the boys who run around looking for easy money in the fight racket.

The German came here managed by Von Bulow. This pilot signed up a number of bouts. He acted like a bookie, scratching his name everywhere. Then the boys discovered that Max might be a fighter. So he was besieged like a prima donna. He finally wound up managed by Joe Jacobs and Company.

His contract had more appendages than a centipede. He looked like a million-dollar meal ticket, and everybody wanted a bit of him. When the easy money boys fall out, nobody gets anything. Max has made a little cash for himself, so will go back to Germany happy.

He had a chance to become a near millionaire, but lost it because he didn't know what it was all about. Maybe the present experience will teach the boys to shoot straight. Then Schmeling may come back for his shot at glory and gold.

Schmeling Not Ready Yet

The German isn't ready yet for the championship fight. He has class and promise, but he needs more competition. A dozen young men might have licked Paulino as efficiently as the invader did. But Max had the resemblance Jack Dempsey, and rode easily into the popular heart.

Sharkey would have beaten Schmeling without much difficulty. Even Phil Scott had a good chance. That's why that out was called off. The many managers were willing to take the chance with Sharkey, who figured to win. But they couldn't gamble with Scott, who loses to good opponents invariably, even though he owns one of the best left hands in the business.

Both Loughran and Sharkey could make Schmeling eat boxing gloves. Jack, in all probability, would have kayaked him. Tommy would have blinded the young man. Now Max has had practice for a year or two. Then he will be set for his real effort, if he can organize by that time on the one-man manager basis.

Some Baby, the Babe

Every so often the Babe is sick: breaks down and is about to retire from baseball, which he has made a big business. He convalesces by setting up new records. Just now he's getting busy to take the home run lead. He has busted out three in two days, two of them with the bases clogged. A month ago he had been voted null and void.

The Chinese religious philosophy starts off with a crack to the effect that before Confucius, there was no Confucius; after Confucius there can be no Confucius. Meaning that the mould was broken after one cast. That's the way Ruth figures in baseball.

Sharkey to Meet Loughran for Title

BOUT SET 26
AT YANKEE STADIUM

By JACK CONWAY

JACK SHARKEY and Tommy Loughran have been signed to battle in a 15-round bout under the direction of the Madison Square Garden Corporation at the Yankee Stadium, New York, on September 26.

William F. Carey, president of the Garden, will permit the athletic commission to advertise the bout as for the heavyweight championship of the world. Articles of agreement for the Sharkey-Loughran match were signed in New York at a secret conference attended by Johnny Hickey, manager of Sharkey; Joseph Smith, representing Loughran, and Carey, Frank Bruen and Tom McAdams of the Garden forces.

This match takes the place of the Sharkey-Schmeling contract which was banned by the New York athletic commission on account of the German's refusal to first go through with his contest with Phil Scott for Humbert J. Fugate.

The Garden head asked representatives of the Olympic Club of Detroit to come to New York to sign the papers for the first round of the match from the Flivver City.

SCHMELING QUITS
With the Garden prepared to risk suspension, the Schmeling camp refused to go through with the Sharkey contest in Detroit. Joe Jacobs, acting as spokesman for the German's numerous managers, notified Jack that Schmeling was prepared to guarantee $125,000 for a fight with Sharkey in Mexico. The Garden has a contract with Schmeling which called for a per cent of the gate. Carey refused to also guarantee the German.

Chairman James Farley and Commissioner William Muldown of the New York commission suggested a Sharkey-Loughran bout. Muldown asserted that Loughran the world-leading heavy-weight and that nobody would recognize as heavy-weight champion in New York until they first defeated the Philadelphia, Johnny Hickey and Joe Smith hurried to New York and met a battle with Carey. Final articles for the bout were soon signed.

The winner of the tussle will meet the best available opponent at Miami next winter. Frank Bruen, following the signing of Sharkey and Loughran, immediately started for Florida where he will start the building of a new arena.

With Schmeling jumping his new contract with the Garden, he will find himself in new legal difficulties. Carey declared he would risk for a court injunction in the event any promoter attempts to use the German heavyweight.

DEMPSEY AT RISK
An effort was made by Dempsey to get Sharkey as well as Schmeling to join with him. The former champion planned to promote the contest in Mexico. Now, however, Sharkey, however, refused to break his contract with the Garden and Boston heavyweight was prepared to back the German any place named by the Garden, but would not jump to any other promoter.

Humbert J. Fugate also was unsuccessful in an attempt to get Sharkey to fight the German.

Carey believes that Sharkey against Loughran will prove the greatest boxoffice attraction of the year. He predicts a gate of $600,000 with a top price of $15, which will include the tax.

The boys are being together two American heavyweights and is the step in the New York market for the fight. Against foreign boxes whom it charges have been getting public in this country under false pretenses.

Sharkey has started training at Jim Tomlin's Gym. He will train with the training camp in Pennsylvania's place at Orangeburg, N. Y., about September 5.

Loughran will train at a camp in Pennsylvania.

The former champion will see action only in the final match of the cup play on Saturday when she and Miss Jacobs oppose Mrs. Phyllis Barron.

A. L. Pitchers Can Use Resin in 1930
New York, Aug. 8.—American League pitchers will be allowed use of the resin bag beginning next season.

This definite step toward curbing the unbridled hitting of home runs was agreed to recently at a special meeting of the league's executive committee.

The only dissenting voice was that of Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, who cast a negative vote on the grounds that pitchers will be allowed to use resin without the use of resin and he could see no reason in giving fingers of raw cows a "break."

MRS. WIGHTMAN CUP TEAM HEAD

New York, Aug. 8.—Not only a great player for 20 years but also a great teacher of tennis, Mrs. Hazel Hockley Wightman will be looked to by her younger colleagues for counsel as well as playing strategy when the American Wightman Cup team meets the British women's five singles and two doubles matches at Forest Hills on Friday and Saturday.

Already named to captain the team which will play for the cup is Fred McLean, who has been playing as good ball as ever, but hasn't been getting all the breaks in the last few games.

Mrs. Wightman's achievements on the court in the last 20 years stand out as the shining example of a woman's place at Orangeburg, N. Y., about September 5.

The former champion will see action only in the final match of the cup play on Saturday when she and Miss Jacobs oppose Mrs. Phyllis Barron.

Roslindale Fights for First Place

ROSLINDALE, fighting hard to get back on top in the Twilight League, plays at Reading in the big game of three scheduled tonight. Dorchester journeys to Malden and Taunton visits South Boston in the other fixtures.

Roslindale will probably send the team which is now the favorites in the league, while Malden will play the team which is now the favorites in the league.

RED SOX SEEK BREAK IN SEATERS

By JOE CASHMAN

THE Red Sox conclude their second long stay at the Fens, this afternoon, in a single game with Washington.

They lost their chance to get an even split for the entire stand by dropping the opening game to the Senators. They can, however, become all even with the visitors in the current as well as the season's series by finishing in front this p.

Either Milton Cashman or Charlie Ruffing will do the pitching. Red Sox Jones is the pitcher. It really makes little difference who hurfs for the natives these days, as the Carigan twister are going well. Whether or not the team wins depends almost always upon the showing of the supporting cast.

Chicago was in the opening game with Washington. Dan McFadden, while found for 12 hits, didn't allow an earned run. Errors were directly responsible for such of the visitors' quartet of markers.

And the natives were able to make but six hits and two runs off the broken-armed Yankees castoff Thomas.

That's too tough a layout to entertain any hopes of the Cariganes pushing out of the cellar before the campaign closes.

If they could split even, they would have a chance for an early return home, they will not leave again until they go to Washington on the last two days of the season. The team will be pulling hard to succeed for they have tried very hard if not very successfully to win every time out, but it will be a miracle if they come through.

AFTER another so-game afternoon, the third time in a row, the Red Sox promise to pick up considerably their final stand against the West with the league-leading Chicago Cubs.

All told, the natives are scheduled to play in 24 games, four in Chicago, four in St. Louis, five in Detroit, five in Cleveland, two in Washington and four in Philadelphia.

WS MARKETS

N. Y. Market Boom Distorts Course of World Credit

Provincially, articulated at the time, the market was difficult for New York to fulfill its obligations. The market was, and at the present time is, a reflection of the market sample of the Old World attitude toward the market. The financial editor of the Commercial Appeal pointed out:

"Which has been written on the basis of the market's weakness between the United States and Europe, and the weakness of sterling in terms of the dollar. The market is the chief immediate cause of the market's weakness. The share market boom in New York

The Federal Reserve authorities in the face of that boom—a policy neither of complete disinterestedness (which would probably have allowed the speculators to cut their own losses before this) nor one of determined resistance to the city (which would have meant a short if very sharp shock), but of half-hearted and indecisive 'pressure' which did very little harm to the Wall Street operators, but they have longed since left the rest of the world.

The war changed the United States from a debtor nation to a creditor country, but she has not been able to get rid of her responsibilities which the change of status implies. She insists upon the right to demand that other nations oppose to payment the balance of a high tariff wall. She has been unable to get a balance of trade, and, as the home market is flooded with foreign manufactured products approaches saturation, threatens to achieve a still larger one.

Up to a year ago the American government provided this imported surplus with a market in the shape of large loans to the belligerent nations. This equilibrating factor has become operative. And, to crown all, even the United States has been largely "sterilized" and her surplus has been converted into her own goods.

It is therefore inevitable that the quality of her exports will be debased, less than the face value of the surplus she is permitted to export.

The sensitive price index, which has been the basis of the tariff schedule, has since risen, particularly in the past month, not only because of the rise in the cost of raw material, but also because of advance in the price of finished commodities. The tariff schedule, which now appears at present to be a favored one, will be a disadvantageous one if the shrinkage in the crops is not greater than indicated by the price index.

The probability is that general business has remained unseasonably good, but the tariff schedule complete data justifies this estimation. The tariff schedule has been applied at unusual levels in the face of the difficulties which have arisen from the war, and the tariff rates. This development, accompanied as it has been, by higher prices for raw materials, makes it seem less probable that the tariff schedule will have been expected, in near future, to be lowered.

The active autumn trade, the least, in prospect, even if the fall seasonal peak is not attained, is a factor to be considered.

Rails to Use New Plan in Financing Earnings Report

Use New Plan in

[illegible]

The transaction is not nearly as complicated as it sounds. Under the terms of the agreement, the earnings of the roads were restricted to (but not guaranteed) net earnings of from 5% to 10 percent on the actual investment in the railroad's capital balance. If any, was to be turned over in trust to the Interstate Commerce Commission to be used to improve so-called weaker roads, those which earned less than the sum proposed.

The whole question hinged on the Supreme Court's decision in O'Sullivan. The case involved a test case, because the same principle was involved as in the contention of other railroads how many of the roads would have accepted the decision as applicable to their particular case. If the Supreme Court had decided against the O'Sullivans, Probably not a half-dozen, the balance feeling justified in citing other factors "peculiar to their case."

They saw conclusively that the roads as a whole were not enthusiastic over that section of the law. They were of course less concerned in the developing of freight rate that would give them a fair rate of earnings and had no much right to expect that as to smaller roads had to look for a portion of their more prosperous brothers' earnings. Some of the are still waiting for their rate to rise and will be waiting a decade hence and according to present appearances

Banker Will Be Sentenced Friday
New York, Aug. 8.—James Mac Clarke, gray-haired, middle-aged banker, who tried to save his younger brother and his partner in a federal jail, there to remain until he is sentenced tomorrow afternoon.

Before two judges—one representing the Federal Government and the other the state courts—Clarke was formally arraigned and again pleaded guilty to enough criminal indictments to keep him in jail for 12 years.

Wearing 'Em Longer Will Help Our Mills

To the women of America comes an order from the world headquarters of fashion, Paris, to don longer skirts. Cottons, wools and silks, as worn by the women of America, will drop very suddenly to a point between the knees and the ankles, the cables declare, if this order is obeyed. Staidness and dignity will replace the free and easy styles of the last few years, say those who design women's costumes for the world.

This lengthening of skirts, particularly in the wools and cottons, and the prediction of fashion experts that wools and cottons will be extensively worn this winter, should bring a note of joy to New England mills. Women's fondness for the rayons and like materials for the last few years has played a large part in the reduced earnings of many New England mills. It has been figured that the addition of two inches to woman's dress of wool or cotton all over the United States would put 5000 additional New England mill employees to work annually.

The decision of the Paris fashion makers will be reflected in improvement in the New England mill situation both for employer and owner if the women of America take their orders as usual from Paris.

New Diet for Tuberculosis

Meat for Armes

A learned German, Dr. Gerson, has indicated a diet for human beings that produces marvelous results in the cure of tuberculosis.

Food stuffs rich in albumen and fats, containing very little hydrates, raw salads, vegetables and fruits, and a combination of potassium and magnesium in place of common salt. American doctors, of course, will test this diet, said to have cured, in a few months, many apparently hopeless tuberculosis cases of more than ten years' duration.

Science teaches governments how to feed their fighting and industrial armies to get the best results.

After the Japanese began fighting Russia wise Japan changed her soldiers' rice diet to a meat diet. The Japanese marched and fought much better.

Each has in his blood a fighting army of white cells that attack our enemies, invading disease germs, and an industrial army, the red cells, that build up the body.

Too little attention has been paid to feeding of the blood armies for special purposes.

About Fertilizers

And Foolish Waste
(Copyright, 1929)

Mr. Jacob, of the United States Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, announces a method for producing pure concentrated phosphoric acid from low grade phosphate rock, which may mean a good deal to farmers.

Real government control—not necessarily ownership, since that word is Boheism—of fertilizer resources might give American farmers a fertilizer as good as can be bought in Germany, where the Government DOES interest itself in the question. A small German package will produce more actual results than a wagonload of such fertilizer as American farmers sometimes buy.

Also farmers neglect their possibilities. Edentown, North Carolina, is the biggest peanut shipping center in the world. Mr. Kinnard, Edentown editor, says Germany sends to Edentown in ships full of peanut shells, valuable for fertilizer because of their high nitrogen content. American farmers throw them away.

Sad Suicide

(Copyright, 1929)

London sends a sad story of a dog, deprived of a garden in which it used to play, committing suicide by swimming out to sea.

Touching, but improbable. Providence mercifully does not allow dogs or other animals to know anything about death.

So far as your little bounding pet knows, he will live forever and so will you, his master. No dog knows that if he swam out to sea in a straight line he would die. But a dog with rabies runs or swims straight ahead, not knowing where he goes. That might explain the suicide.

Not for Timid Souls

Joseph Moncure March has written a book-length story in verse, called "The Set-Up," which paints a terrific realistic picture of professional fighters and managers, some of the type Boston has known.

It is a sordid tale, superbly told. If you lead a quiet life, and think quiet thoughts, do not read it. But if you want a glimpse behind the scenes of the racket which holds men a grip on the American public, and if you are curious about the grisly conduct of the so-called human race, you might let Mr. March tell you this story. But remember the warning—it is not a tale for timid souls.

ONCE-OVERS

YOU want a pal!

But that pal must meet several requirements. You want someone who would not ask you to take part in anything that you would not wish to do. If this be so, you may never find your ideal pal. If you admit the truth, what you really want is someone to whom you need never make any concessions and who would be governed entirely by your desires. In other words you are selfish! You ask much and wish to give little.

This very trait stands out prominently that if you are unable to find the pal you want. You want someone to whom you can unload yourself. You want a person whose loyalty and judgment you can trust. Things come up in your life that you would like to talk to someone about, someone in whom you could have perfect confidence. You want that someone to share your troubles. But you must allow you to dictate what each of you shall do to afford amusement. What do you want you are after? (Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.)

The BAER Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

WE are sorry to inform our readers that our short expedition to Manchuria as a war correspondent is over.

We had intended to furnish you with the most reliable news that could be secured. But it seems that the Russians and the Chinese have both abdicated.

"Men aren't worth much nowadays," he said. "Look! 'em. They are more like women than men. It all comes of being too much with women."

"They're brought up by women and go to school with women and then spend their lives working in offices with women."

"Women are all right in their way, but you can't deny there's something radically different between a woman's way of looking at things and a man's. They haven't got the same range of vision, as we have. Maybe it's natural. They don't want to take a chance. They don't like people who do take chances. And they bring their boys up THAT WAY."

"AMERICAN MEN WERE ONCE THE TAKE-CHANCE-ING CREATURES OF THE RACE. BUT NOW ALL THEY DO IS TO GET THE LATEST LATEST AND SING SONGS AND PASS RESOLUTIONS. Just like a pal."

The Russian army gave up rice for the duration. The Chinese gave up caviar. They didn't like it anyway.

Indicating that co-operation is beautiful if the patient receives. Here's the way Hong-Kong figured it out. It's a fine slogan. But if you do go away, you go over the top, get knocked off—and never have grand-children to tell.

The Russians felt the same way about it. So both sides kissed their battle-axes, put them away in lavender and old lace, rattled the drums—and retreated with indomitable courage.

They were right. They had determined not to allow their soldiers to get into the hands of a com-munism.

We are sorry to disappoint the diplomats. But the Chino-Russian war of 1929 has joined the Nightingale New Jersey peach crop of 1924. (Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.)

LISTEN, WORLD!

An old man said this to me. He had known the rough youth of almost every big American city. He had looked down and looked up on every frontier. And there was the wisdom and power and tang of those adventuring male years in his voice as he spoke.

"Men aren't worth much nowadays," he said. "Look! 'em. They are more like women than men. It all comes of being too much with women."

By TEMPLE MANING
NAPLES is certainly the gateway to some of the most glorious spots in the world. And one of these spots is the Island of Capri. If you crave forgetfulness of all the material cares of the world, go to Capri. If you fear that comfortable feeling of insouciance, stay away for in Capri there is nothing but beauty and the joy of living in the immediate present. The tale of the Sirens, is in the air. The Sirens are not the steamship distance from the city. It is but a tiny island—only three miles long and one mile wide—but it is crammed more sheer beauty than in any comparable territory in the world.

Along the shore of Capri cliffs rise to an average height of 900 feet while back of them towers to a height of 2000 feet above the sea. The whole island is one unbroken Solario by means of an inclined railway. The town of Capri sits on the saddle of the mountain. Perhaps the best-known spot on Capri is the famous Blue Grotto. The limestone cliffs of Capri have been rescaling the Mediterranean waves for centuries, and in the process numerous grottoes have been cut into the rock. The largest of these is the Blue Grotto which derives its name from the blue aura that emanates from its entrance.

One enters the Blue Grotto through a low opening, only three feet high. One must crouch or lie down in the small boat as it passes through the small opening. But once inside, the grotto opens out becoming 40 feet high. It extends back into the rock for 200 feet.

If the illumination within the grotto were dependent upon the light admitted by the opening, one would be able to see for only a short distance beyond the "door-way." Below the surface of the water is a huge submerged archway of sunlight refracted through the water into the cavern. This coloring which has won—and justly—the fame which the grotto enjoys, is caused by the sun above the level of the water.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

THE lark has brought his gladness to the day. His magic golden throat Can charm night's doubt, fear's shadows all away.

With each ascending note, The butterfly that flutters for a light. Gold wings in sunlight's glow, Gives joy to every eager, lifted foot.

While petalled hearts unfold, It is a truth as old as earth and time. As smiling is the day, For everything is given for dower to him.

A needed part to play, That everything can send a ray of light. A note of song or mirth, Into love life, perhaps less true, less bright.

Till it targets its death. The sighing willow and the singing stream. Impart their loveliness. The linnets given to song, the star of its gleam. Can you, can I do less?

Try This for Exercise

How the Scotch Develop Muscle

This is a Highland lad developing the muscles of his arms, back, shoulders and legs. The boy that can throw this trunk of a tree, called "the caber," farther than the hero of the Highlands. Putting the shot, throwing the hammer, the mallet and other physical exercises are mild compared with this.

Interesting to the student of human history is the fact that probably this "tossing the caber" exercise may date back among human beings nearly a million years, back to the time when men and not beasts used to sharpen flints or fasten stones at the end of a club for use as weapons.

The primitive giant, among our ancestors, able to pick up the trunk of a small tree, as this young Scotchman does, and hurl it at his enemy, two-legged enemy from the valley over the mountain, or four-legged bear, was the safest man. He could protect his family, therefore the family survived, and thus was established the race of strong and brave men.

It is true that the gorillas have passed us in physical power, and the orang-outangs, although smaller and lighter than men, are stronger.

We, according to scientists, descend from creatures that were almost helpless, no strong, big teeth, powerful claws or great speed to back them. They had to practice in every way, developing their strength, to hold their place in a world of savagely armed animals.

And here you see what is left of an exercise that once, probably, was used for self-defense and in attack. If you want to see how strong you are, or are NOT, try "tossing the caber."

SEEING AMERICA

By O. O. McIntyre

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—To my notion the two most romantically interesting cities in America are New Orleans and San Francisco. Certainly outside of Paris, no city has learned so successfully to mix work and play and enjoy life to the fullest as this.

San Francisco is modern and newly built yet its historic past sticks through. Along its tortuous up and down flat paths avenues you feel the breath of old Spain, of the Argonauts of the Vigilantes of Canton, of the mountains and the sea.

It is difficult to imagine that in the span of a single lifetime, San Francisco has sprung up from a tiny Mission rancho to one of the world's most cosmopolitan centers. Add to that the achievement of building a city of fire and built up again in the interim.

It is fortunate on this trip to approach the city from the bluffs of Dolores by motor in the sunny glare of a clear morning. The tumbling hills seemed arched with life and soaring skyline radiated splendor. The air was warm and the sea was blue. If you care for a Chamber of Commerce blurb.

When you come to San Francisco you must observe the climate as best you can. The difference between summer and winter is utterly fascinating with its cyclorama of hills and majestic mountains with their snow-capped peaks in a halo of mystery that is beguiling and soothing to the senses. Transcending to watch the mist sweep over the city, the city, the city and about on its mighty bluffs.

San Francisco greets reference to fog with a polite change of subject and yet this uneven phase of climate attracts more people than the city realizes. The fog has the damp and penetrating and comes up almost every day. Yet it is a waste for a brief time the scene peaks in a halo of mystery that is beguiling and soothing to the senses. Transcending to watch the mist sweep over the city, the city, the city and about on its mighty bluffs.
